EXCELLENT CAREER OPPORTUNITY

The San Diego Housing Commission (SDHC) is seeking a Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. As a member of the executive leadership team, the Senior Vice President and CFO is a critical advisor to the CEO, COO, and other peers in the organization on developing financial resilience to meet SDHC's business needs and strategic goals, including long-term fiscal stability to continue to provide housing assistance for households with low income in the City of San Diego. As a public-sector finance professional, the SVP/CFO will have an unquestionable sense of integrity, an inherent commitment to stewarding public funds, and the political acumen to effectively position the organization for success. SDHC is looking for a proven strategic leader to oversee and execute the activities and operations of the Financial Services Department, composed of 29 staff (including 14 managers) in the areas of accounting, payroll, budget preparation, auditing, risk management, audit compliance, administration, cash management, financial analysis and projections, and investments, as well as SDHC's nonprofit development arm, Housing Development Partners (HDP).

SDHC – THE ORGANIZATION

SDHC is an award-winning public housing agency in City of San Diego that provides innovative housing assistance programs for households with low income or experiencing homelessness. The San Diego City Council, in its role as the Housing Authority of the City of San Diego, oversees SDHC.

SDHC's status as a "Moving to Work" (MTW) agency provides SDHC the flexibility to implement a variety of innovative new approaches to provide affordable housing assistance and other services to low-income families within the City of San Diego, subject to approval from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). SDHC is one of the 39 original agencies to receive an MTW designation from HUD, out of approximately 3,200 public housing agencies nationwide.

As an organization, SDHC helps pay rent for approximately 17,000 low-income households annually. Importantly, SDHC is a leader in collaborative efforts to address homelessness, such as the Community Action Plan on Homelessness for the City of San Diego. SDHC also creates and preserves affordable rental housing, with more than 27,000 affordable units in service in the City today with SDHC's participation.

In the current fiscal year, approximately 71 percent of SDHC's budgeted new revenue comes from federal sources, such as MTW, HUD's HOME Investment Partnerships Program, Community Development Block Grant funds and other federal funds. State funds account for about 11 percent of SDHC's new revenue. Another 11 percent comes from SDHC local funds, and City and County funds represent about 7 percent.

SAN DIEGO AND THE METROPOLITAN REGION

San Diego County has a population of nearly 3.3 million, making it California's second-most populous county and the fifth-most populous in the United States. The county seat is San Diego, the second-most populous city in California (behind Los Angeles) and the eighth-most populous city in the United States. The City of San Diego has a diverse population of approximately 1.4 million residents. SDHC's jurisdiction is the City of San Diego.

The region is home to a vibrant economy that makes significant contributions across many sectors, industries, and employers.

San Diego today is one of the most ethnically diverse big cities in the U.S., with no particular group making up a majority of residents. Based on recent census data, demographics for the City of San Diego include:

- White (non-Hispanic): about 40–42% of residents
- Hispanic or Latino (of any race): about 29–31%
- Asian (non-Hispanic): about 17–18%
- Black or African American (non-Hispanic): about 5–6%
- Two or more races and "other" races (non-Hispanic): roughly 7–9% combined
- Native American, Native Hawaiian, and other Pacific Islander: each well under 1% but still present as distinct communities

San Diego thrives on a vibrant tapestry of diversity seen in its schools, cuisine, festivals, and neighborhoods. This dynamic evolution continuously enriches the City's unique identity, making it a truly welcoming place.

There are more than 70 miles of stunning coastline to explore! Most of the San Diego region, between the coast and the Laguna Mountains, consists of hills, mesas, and small canyons. Snow-capped mountains (in winter) rise to the east, with the Sonoran Desert farther to the east. The region is a mecca for a wide range of outdoor activities.

The San Diego region is a beautiful place to live, work, and enjoy life!
